National Education Policy 2020: An Amalgamation of Tradition and Modernity (In Blended Mode)

VENUE:
Munshi Memorial Hall, Bharatiya Vidya Bhavan
Kasturba Gandhi Marg, New Delhi - 110001
A country is able to grow and prosper when its rich cultural heritage is preserved and promoted. The more fluid a country's knowledge boundaries are, higher the development of the feeling of love and pride for the nation, as it also helps in growth and liberation of the self. The force of “Education” plays a quintessential role in making this goal achievable. Education is rightfully deemed as an instrument of culture and cultural change. The Indian schools of philosophy, teachings of the Bhagwad Gita, Vedic mathematics, Ayurveda, and the diverse linguistic heritage has made India an epitome of excellence- both in individual and social domains. This diverse knowledge and cultural capital of India has attracted intellectuals from across the globe since time immemorial. It becomes imperative for the contemporary educators and policy makers to fuel and foster this cultural wealth through education.

An education system is shaped and strengthened overtly and covertly with its policy framework, as the policy provides the base to any educational superstructure. An effective policy is framed taking into consideration great visions, perspectives and missions. The National Education Policy 2020 is one such guiding force which has been framed on the principles of Indianess and Inclusion. The NEP 2020 has been the very first policy in the rich history of India the formation of which has been open to extensive review, reforms and suggestions from all the citizens.

This policy is an amalgamation of thoughts and recommendations of able academicians, reputed policy framers and also researchers and educators from both formal and informal sectors. This policy is formulated keeping in mind that “Education is a public service and access to quality education must be considered as a basic right of every student” (NEP, 2020). This clearly reflects the Indian ethos of democracy and inclusiveness which aim at bridging the social, cultural, regional and linguistic divisions.

A significant characteristic of this policy is its aim to strike a balance between tradition and modernity—that is to adopt the modern ways of living and modern knowledge systems and simultaneously preserve the traditional ones. In the current times it is imperative for us to realize that instilling the indigenous knowledge and values is as important for an individual as the creation of a “global citizen”. So, if an individual is critically aware of the global trends and is abreast with the global education and lifestyle she/he should also be well-versed with the Indian cultural traditions, practices and knowledge systems. The NEP 2020 very effectively and strongly integrates this idea and envisions achieving this ideal. This conference is being organised to delve into various perspective and aspects of this policy among different stakeholders.
Objectives of the Conference

1. To create a platform for teacher educators, researchers, administrators and educators to share and discuss their ideas on the National Education Policy 2020 and its role in restructuring/revolutionizing education in India.
2. To discuss and deliberate upon the novel features of the National Education Policy 2020, and their need and appropriateness in the contemporary India.
3. To identify probable challenges that may be faced while implementing the changes suggested by the policy and share recommendations to minimize them.
4. To emphasize the aspects of the National Education Policy 2020 that aim to build a unique blend of traditional Indian values in education, with the modern-day needs of the global citizen.
5. To pave a way forward in strengthening individual and social values that are congruent to the vision of National Education Policy 2020
